Geschichte

Anfänge

Capitol Wrestling Federation (1952–1963)

Roderick James „Jess“ McMahon war eigentlich ein Box-Promotor, der im amerikanischen Nordosten beheimatet war. Doch ab etwa 1933 veranstaltete McMahon erstmals Wrestlingshows im „Municipal Stadium“ in Freeport, Long Island. Durch seine Kontakte mit Wrestlinggeschäftsgrößen, wie Raymond Mondt und Ray Fabiani, wurde es seinem Sohn Vince McMahon sr. später möglich, Partnerschaften mit angrenzenden Promotern einzugehen.

WWE

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

World Wrestling Entertainment, Inc. (d/b/a WWE) is an American publicly traded, privately controlled entertainment company that deals primarily in professional wrestling, with revenue also coming from film, music, video games, product licensing, and direct product sales.

WWE also refers to the professional wrestling promotion itself, founded by Jess McMahon and Toots Mondt in 1952 as Capitol Wrestling Corporation Ltd. As of 2016, it is the largest wrestling promotion in the world, holding over 500 events a year (with the roster divided up into various globally traveling brands),^[9] and broadcasting to about 36 million viewers in more than 150 countries. The company's global headquarters is located in Stamford, Connecticut, with offices in major cities across the world.^{[10][11]}

As in other professional wrestling promotions, WWE shows are not legitimate contests, but purely entertainment-based, featuring storyline-driven, scripted, and choreographed matches, though they often include moves that can put performers at risk of injury if not performed correctly. This was first publicly acknowledged by WWE's owner Vince McMahon in 1989 to avoid taxes from athletic commissions. Since the 1980s, WWE publicly has branded their product as sports entertainment, acknowledging the product's roots in competitive sport and dramatic theater.

The company's majority owner is its chairman and CEO, Vince McMahon. Along with his wife Linda, children Shane and Stephanie, and son-in-law Paul "Triple H" Levesque, the McMahon family holds approximately 70% of WWE's equity and 96% of the voting power.

The current entity, incorporated on February 21, 1980, was previously known as Titan Sports, Inc., which was founded in 1979 in South Yarmouth, Massachusetts. It acquired Capitol Wrestling Corporation, the holding company for the World Wrestling Federation, in 1982. Titan was renamed World Wrestling Federation, Inc. in 1998, then World Wrestling Federation Entertainment, Inc. in 1999, and finally the current World Wrestling Entertainment, Inc. in 2002. Since 2011, the company has officially branded itself solely as WWE though the company's legal name was not changed.^{[12][13]}

WWE

WWE³ (a efectos legales, World Wrestling Entertainment, Inc.)^{4 5} es una empresa de entretenimiento deportivo, propietaria de una serie de elementos multimedia (principalmente televisión, Internet y eventos en vivo) relacionados con la promoción de lucha libre profesional. La mayor parte de sus ingresos proviene de la licencia de productos, así como de la distribución de películas y música (mercadotecnia). Su propietario, administrador y director ejecutivo es Vincent K. McMahon, Paul Levesque, vicepresidente de obras y relaciones artísticas, posee aproximadamente un 70% de la economía de la empresa —cuyas acciones forman parte de la Bolsa de Nueva York—. Su sede se encuentra en Connecticut, contando también con oficinas administrativas en Los Ángeles, Nueva York, Londres y Toronto. La industria primordial de WWE es la lucha libre profesional. En los últimos años ha pasado a considerarse como la promoción de lucha libre más grande del mundo, mientras que sus grabaciones constituyen un porcentaje significativo de la historia visual completa de la lucha libre mundial.⁶

La WWE también ha comprado y absorbido a sus principales rivales como WCW y ECW.

La World Wrestling Entertainment, Inc. (WWE) est une entreprise américaine cotée en bourse (NYSE : WWE (<http://www.nyse.com/quote/XNYS:WWE>)), spécialisée dans l'organisation d'événements de divertissement, principalement de catch et dans la gestion des droits de médias télévisuels/cinématiques, musicaux et d'internet, et des produits dérivés associés à ces événements.

La WWE est actuellement la plus grande entreprise de catch (lutte professionnelle) au monde, atteignant 15 millions de téléspectateurs cumulés par semaine aux États-Unis et diffusant ses émissions en une trentaine de langues dans plus de 145 pays.

La compagnie était d'abord nommée Capitol Wrestling Corporation en 1952, puis World Wide Wrestling Federation (WWWF) en 1963 et plus tard World Wrestling Federation (WWF) en 1980. En 2002, après un procès avec le World Wildlife Fund, la WWF se renomme World Wrestling Entertainment, puis simplement abrégée en WWE à partir de 2011.

La WWE se divise actuellement en trois « branches », deux « rosters principaux » composé des catcheurs les plus populaires de la fédération qui sont 'Raw' et 'SmackDown', et NXT, le club-école de la fédération.

Le quartier général de la WWE est situé à Stamford, dans le Connecticut. Elle est cotée en bourse au New York Stock Exchange et a des bureaux, entre autres, à New York, Los Angeles, Toronto, Londres, Tokyo, Sydney. La famille McMahon détient approximativement 70 % des actions et environ 96 % du pouvoir de décision au conseil d'administration. Vince McMahon est l'actionnaire majoritaire et président de la compagnie depuis 1982. Sa fille, Stephanie McMahon, en est une des vice-présidentes.

La WWE possède un très large catalogue d'archives vidéo, représentant une portion significative de l'histoire du catch professionnel américain.

La World Wrestling Entertainment (WWE),^[11] nota come World Wrestling Federation (WWF) fino al 2002, è un'azienda statunitense di sport di intrattenimento che si occupa principalmente di wrestling, oltre a film, musica e merchandising. È quotata in borsa al New York Stock Exchange con la sigla WWE,^[5] che si riferisce anche all'omonima federazione di wrestling.^[1]

La storia della WWE risale al 1948, quando nacque la National Wrestling Alliance (NWA) – un gruppo di federazioni indipendenti di wrestling, dette anche «territori» – e il territorio della futura WWE era quello degli Stati Uniti d'America nord-orientali, noto anche come Capitol Sports.^[12] La precursore della WWE fu fondata da Jess McMahon e Toots Mondt il 7 gennaio 1952 con il nome di Capitol Wrestling Corporation Ltd. (CWC).^[13] La CWC entrò ufficialmente a far parte del sistema a territori della NWA nel 1953 e vi rimase fino al 1963, quando se ne staccò e il 25 aprile seguente formò la World Wide Wrestling Federation (WWWF).^[14] Tuttavia nel 1971 l'allora WWWF tornò a far parte del circuito territoriale NWA e vi rimase fino al 1983, anno in cui si staccò definitivamente dalla NWA.^{[15][16]} Per ragioni di marketing nel 1979 acquisì il nome di World Wrestling Federation.^[17] Successivamente attraversò diversi cambi legali di nome negli anni successivi: a partire dal 1980 acquisì il nome di Titan Sports, Inc. (fondata nel 1979 a South Yarmouth, area non incorporata del Massachusetts), che sarebbe l'odierna entità e che fu costituita il 21 febbraio 1980 dopo essere stata incorporata con la CWC, a sua volta acquistata dalla Titan Sports nel 1982;^{[2][18]} a partire dal 6 maggio 1998 diventò nota con il nome di World Wrestling Federation, Inc. e il 19 ottobre 1999 come World Wrestling Federation Entertainment, Inc. (WWFE, Inc. o WWFE),^{[19][20]} per poi passare il 6 maggio 2002 – a causa di un contenzioso con il World Wide Fund for Nature, noto con lo stesso acronimo^[21] – al più recente e odierno nome legale,^[22] divenendo nota semplicemente come WWE (acronimo di World Wrestling Entertainment) a partire dal 7 aprile 2011, anche se il nome legale completo non è stato mai ufficialmente cambiato.^{[12][23][24]}

Al 2017 il presidente della WWE e amministratore delegato – nonché proprietario e azionista di maggioranza della WWE (52%) – è Vince McMahon, aiutato nella gestione dai figli Shane e Stephanie e da suo genero Paul "Triple H" Levesque: la famiglia McMahon detiene quindi circa il 70% del capitale
